

Group at the conference

Dear & partners of the friends & ministry,

Greetings from Sicily! It's been a rollercoaster of a month. It seems like the weather in Michigan is one day in the 40s and another in the 70s.

Lots of opportunities and activities have kept us doing His work here, with lots of planning for the month of May also. Giuseppe was not planning on being sick for almost two weeks either, knowing how involved he is ministering.

Now he is doing much better and serving in full capacity. There are still some medical visits to be done but nothing serious. God has used him in preaching and teaching all over Sicily as you can see in the photos.

We have also been involved in a conference on migration in the southern part of Sicily. Please be in prayer, especially for the next month of traveling north to evangelize and support the local churches with the talents that He has given us.

By the time you read this newsletter, Joshua Castronuovo will be returning to Switzerland after a week spent with us in Sicily for future ministry. Please pray for Leonardo (Leo). He will be coming this Thursday night May 2 to the apartment to visit Giuseppe and learn about the Gospel. We hope and pray to use the apartment as a neutral point in sharing and having a bible study.

Our family is doing great. It is a joy to be able to see the grandkids and chat with all of them. Thank you for your prayers and support that allow us to serve in proclaiming His Good News. From all of us at Act Now Ministries, a big thank you.

Serving together,
Giuseppe and Pennie Collesano

Ciao for now.
Let's go fishing (really)
for One more for The One.
